IOSH (Institution of Occupational Safety & Health) Working Safely

The IOSH Working Safely is a one-day course for staff from any sector with no supervisory or managerial responsibility who are non-health and safety experts. It is designed to ensure that all personnel have a basic understanding of safe and healthy working practices and are able to comply with both statutory requirements and those of their employer in accordance with the company Health and Safety policy. It provides grounding in the essentials of health and safety and is designed to improve the safety culture within an organisation.

Everyone at work should have an understanding of why they must 'work safely' and this course offers exactly that. Working Safely introduces a completely new approach to health and safety training and offers all the basics in a high impact interactive course.

Course content

-  Carry out work activities without risk to themselves or others and understand the consequences to both the individual and their organisation if they fail to work safely.
-  Identify hazards, risks and risks controls and understand the importance of risk assessment with examples of everyday use of risk assessment.
-  Understand how to take appropriate workplace precautions and their importance in the working environment.
-  Appreciate the importance of a health & safety management system.
-  Identify lines of communication with respect to health & safety in their place of work.
-  Understand emergency, accident plans and procedures and how and who to report accidents, incidents and near misses to, in their place of work.
-  Recognise how industry affects the environment and how individuals can minimise pollution and waste.
-  Identify safety signs and signals.

Course duration

This course is delivered over 1 day at our training facility in Lincoln, at your organisations premises or at a convenient location for you.

Assessment and certification

For delegates who attend the course and successfully complete the written and practical assessments, there is a choice of accreditation, either an IOSH Working Safely certificate or an IOSH passport card.
